

SILVA NOMINATIONS 2014

Candidates: Ephraim Chuene and Mary Makhobotlwane - Nominated by Raco

Motivation: Joint nomination for two enthusiastic orienteers that have been able to get orienteering going in Polokwane. Probably the first club to be started by people that did not originally belong to another orienteering club.

Candidate: Ruedi Siegenthaler (posthumously) - Nominated by Raco

Ruedi was a kind and generous person who always thought of other people and went out of his way to help them. Ruedi was involved in so many aspects of the Cape Town life, and improved all of them with his dedication and expertise. He was not afraid of hard work and got on with his tasks quietly, doing things rather than talking about them. Ruedi was very thoughtful and often considered all aspects of a scenario that others missed.

Candidate : Ephraim Chuene. – Nominated by AR and Witsoc

Orienteering is not an 'easy' sport like football. It takes having a person with drive to create maps, plan courses, print maps, deal with venues and permissions... Most orienteers spend years (decades even!) orienteering but never produce a map. For a fellow to have seen ONE map at ONE, casual event... and to begin producing maps... Just that is impressive. And to then set up a club, present events, make more maps... A person like Ephraim really is one in a million.
